Let's do the math

- 1 Do you know what it costs to retire in the UAE today with a simple lifestyle?

AED 189,442
annually

- 2 Now imagine you retire 20 years from now. Inflation will drive the cost to

AED 376,949
annually

- 3 Now guess the average living costs for 15 years in retirement

AED 5,654,230

Did you know?

For a retirement residence visa in the UAE: you need AED 2 Million in savings or a monthly income of AED 20,000, as per the 2023 regulations.

The estimated retirement cost of over AED 5 Million is for a basic lifestyle. It may seem overwhelming but consider everything you need when you retire.

Inflation and Cost of Living: Over time, the cost of living increases due to inflation. Your retirement savings should account for this, ensuring that your purchasing power remains intact.

Medical Insurance: Health is wealth, and during retirement, having comprehensive medical insurance is crucial and very expensive. Insurance premiums tend to increase significantly as you get older. So it pays to be prepared.

Critical Illness Cover: Investing in critical illness cover now provides protection against the financial burden that a serious health issue may pose. This ensures that your retirement funds remain untouched for your preferred lifestyle.

Are you prepared to make use of this opportunity?

Retirement is a new chapter in your life, not just the end of your 9 to 5 grind. Reward yourself with the financial freedom you truly deserve.
